Paralympic competition format

The Rio 2016 Paralympic Games football 7-a-side tournament is a men's event involving eight teams and begins with a group phase. The eight teams will be divided into two groups of four and will play in a round-robin format in each group, with all teams playing each other once.

During the group phase three points will be awarded for a win, one point will be awarded for a draw and zero points will be awarded for a loss. Team rankings during the group stage will be determined by the following criteria, in order:

- Greatest number of points in all group matches.
- Goal difference in all group matches.
- Greatest number of goals scored in all group matches.

If two or more teams are equal on the basis of the above criteria, their rankings will be determined by the following criteria, in order:

- Greatest number of points in group matches between the teams concerned.
- Goal difference in group matches between the teams concerned.
- Greater number of goals scored in group matches between the teams concerned.
- Drawing of lots by the International Federation of Cerebral Palsy Football (IFCPF) Technical Delegate and host organising committee.

If a team scores more than 10 goals in one match, only the initial 10 goals will be counted towards goals scored and goal difference.

The top two teams in each group qualify for the semi-final phase. The winners of the semi-finals play in the gold medal match, while the losing teams from the semi-finals contest the bronze medal match.

The teams that finish third in each group meet to decide the fifth- and sixth-place rankings, and the teams that were last in each group play for the seventh and eighth places.

Sport rules and procedures

The 7-a-side competition will be held in accordance with the editions of the following documents that are in force at the time of the Rio 2016 Paralympic Games:

- IFCPF rule book (available at www.ifcpf.com/rules)
- The IPC handbook (available at www.paralympic.org/the-ipc/handbook)

IFCPF, working with Rio 2016 competition management, will be responsible for the technical control and direction of the 7-a-side competition at the Games.

Duration and scoring

In accordance with IFCPF rules, 7-a-side matches will consist of two 30-minute halves, separated by a 15-minute half-time.

If the scores are tied at the end of 60 minutes during the knockout phase of the competition, two 10-minute periods of extra-time will be played. If the scores remain tied after extra-time, the match will be decided by a penalty kick competition following the International Football Association Board (IFAB) Laws of the Game.

There will be no extra-time or penalty kicks during the group stage of the competition: if a match is tied after 60 minutes, it will be declared a draw.

Changes since the London 2012 Paralympic Games

In London a crossover between the third- and fourth-ranked teams was played for position five to eight. In Rio third-ranked teams in the group play for fifth and sixth, with the fourth-ranked teams playing for position seventh and eighth.

Differences from the Olympic Games

The competition format differs from Olympic football in the following ways:

- Team sizes are smaller, consisting of seven instead of 11 players.
- Game time is less, two 30-minute halves rather than two 45-minute halves.
- The field of play and goal size is smaller.
- The offside rule does not apply.
- The throw-in complies with IFAB laws except that a player can choose to roll the ball into play. The ball must then immediately touch the ground within the field of play upon leaving the thrower's hand.
- The start and restart of play complies with IFAB laws except that opposing players must be seven metres from the ball.
