PARALYMPIC COMPETITION FORMAT

The wheelchair rugby competition at the Tokyo 2020 Paralympic Games is one tournament, contested by eight mixed gender teams.

The teams are split into two pools of four teams for the preliminary phase. Teams play against every other team in their pool once. Games that are tied at the end of regulation time shall continue through three-minute overtime periods as many times as necessary until a winner is determined. This applies to the round robin phase (preliminary) and the finals phase.

After all pool phase games have been played, the two teams with the best record in each group qualify for the semifinals. In the semifinals, the team ranked top of group A plays against the team ranked second in group B, and vice versa. The winners of the semifinals then contest the gold medal match while the losers play for the bronze medal.

The remaining four teams will play classification games to determine the rankings from fifth to eighth. The teams finished third in their pool will play each other for fifth and sixth. The teams finished fourth in their pool will play each other for seventh and eighth.

Teams receive two points for a win and zero point for a loss during the round robin (preliminary) phase. This includes wins and losses by forfeiture.

SPORT RULES AND PROCEDURES

Tiebreak rules

If two or more teams are tied on points at the end of the preliminary phase, the following procedures shall be used, in the order presented, to break the tie. As soon as one of these procedures is found to resolve the tie, the subsequent procedures are not to be used.

If a tie arises subsequent to the resolution of an earlier tie, these procedures are to be used again, in order, beginning with the first.

1. Forfeit – a tied team which forfeits a match during the preliminary round shall be deemed to have lost the tie.
2. Points – tied teams: teams will be ranked based on points gained in the preliminary round matches between the tied teams.
3. Try differential – tied teams: teams will be ranked based on try differential, the difference between the sums of the scores for and against a team, in the preliminary round matches between the tied teams.
4. Most tries – tied teams: teams will be ranked based on which team scored the most tries in the preliminary round matches between the tied teams.
5. Try differential – all teams: teams will be ranked based on the try differential in all preliminary round matches.
6. Most tries – all teams: teams will be ranked based on which team scored the most tries in all preliminary round matches.
7. Coin toss – teams will be ranked based on the results of a coin toss.

Duration and scoring

In accordance with International Wheelchair Rugby Federation (IWRF) rules, wheelchair rugby games consist of four periods of eight minutes. There will be breaks of three minutes after the first and third quarters, and a break of 10 minutes at half-time.

In case of a draw at the end of the regular playing time, an overtime period of three minutes will be played, and more additional overtime periods will be played until a winner is determined. There shall be a three-minute interval between the end of regulation play and the first overtime period. If additional overtime periods are required, there shall be a two-minute interval following each overtime period.

Competition rules

The wheelchair rugby competition will be held in accordance with the current editions of the following documents that are in force at the time of the Games:

- The International Wheelchair Rugby Federation (IWRF) International Rules for the Sport of Wheelchair rugby
- The IWRF Competition Regulations
- The IWRF Classification Manual
- (All of the above are available for download at www.iwrf.com.)
- The IPC Handbook (available at www.paralympic.org/the-ipc/handbook)

The IWRF, working with Tokyo 2020 competition management, will be responsible for the technical control and direction of the wheelchair rugby competition at the Tokyo 2020 Paralympic Games.

CHANGES SINCE THE RIO 2016 PARALYMPIC GAMES

- The intervals between playing periods have changed. For Tokyo 2020 there will be three-minute intervals at the end of the first and third periods and a 10-minute interval at half time. There were breaks of two minutes after the first and third quarters and a break of five minutes at half time at Rio 2016.
- The interval between the end of regulation play and the start of the first overtime period will be three minutes rather than two minutes at Tokyo 2020.

DIFFERENCES FROM THE OLYMPIC GAMES

There is no Olympic equivalent sport for wheelchair rugby.
